FAQ

A hand-drawn diagram of a 10-story building, represented by a vertical rectangle divided into ten horizontal sections. To the left of the building, there are ten wavy vertical lines, each corresponding to one of the ten floors. To the right of the building, there are ten arrows, each pointing towards the building and corresponding to one of the ten floors. The arrows are of varying lengths and are positioned to the right of the building's right edge. The entire diagram is drawn on a grid of horizontal lines.
